

centuries made it second only to the Bible among English readership.>> "The word of God is alone to be taken as our guide in worship, and in matters of religion."—The Acts and Monuments of John Foxe (1841), Vol.1, Pt.1, Sect.4, pg.191

"But they that are true Christians, and have regard to their souls, must learn by their preachers, and understand by the scriptures, that besides this life, besides this world, this Kingdom, these things here present, there are other things and much greater things another life, another Kingdom, another world to be looked for."—Writings of John Fox, Bale and Coverdale, pg.34

Ellen G. White (1827-1915) – American female author, speaker, missionary, a founding pioneer of the Seventh Day Adventist Church. Despite early misfortunes depriving her of formal education beyond the 3rd grade, she laboured tirelessly in the mission of Christ her entire life, increasing in ability and influence. Acknowledged today by researchers as the most translated American author, and most translated female author in history>> "There is nothing more calculated to strengthen the intellect than the study of the Scriptures. No other book is so potent to elevate the thoughts, to give vigor to the faculties as the broad, ennobling truths of the Bible. If God's word were studied as it should be, men would have a breadth of mind, a nobility of character, and a stability of purpose rarely seen in these times."—Steps to Christ, pg.90

"May the same Holy Spirit which inspired the Bible take possession of your hearts, leading you to love his word, which is Spirit and life.. We must needs be stimulated by calling to mind the life of the martyrs and holy men of God, who appreciated the truth above gold, silver, and earthly possessions, and even above life itself.. They read the word of God, they meditated upon it, and believed it."—REVIEW and Herald, January 8, 1889 par.11

Yes friend, this world has been blessed by many noble men and women. And not a few attribute the best of themselves, indeed the best of humanity, to have its root in following the Bible. Even in the midst of the worst of persecutions, so precious was the Word of God to them that they regarded it as transcending the momentary sufferings of death. What a powerful Book! Don't you think you should read it? Study it more? Could not the inspiration, the salvation they gained, be yours too?

The Bible – the Word of God – is the salvation message from our Creator. It outlines our origins, our purpose, and why we find a Saviour in Jesus Christ alone. Our prayer is that you would gain such an understanding, such an experience, as you give God's Word the chance to renew your life – like being born again, with a brighter hope!

1 Peter 1:23>> ²³Being born again, not of corruptible seed, but of incorruptible, by the word of God, which liveth and abideth for ever.

May God bless you...

CAN YOU TRUST THE BIBLE? (PART 3)

What are the FACTS and what are the MYTHS about this age-surviving Book?

❖ WHO ARE THE ONES WHO ACTUALLY LOVE AND FOLLOW THE BIBLE? AREN'T THESE GENERALLY FOOLS, EXTREMISTS & THE UNLEARNED?

Friend, ever heard of Isaac Newton, Abraham Lincoln, Booker T. Washington? Immense contributors these have been to human progress. But they among other worthies share a certain quality which you may not have known – they loved and followed the Bible. Here are some short profiles of honourable, intelligent, renowned individuals, who were, in the very same breath, Bible-believers. Testimonial evidence is supplied for the lives of these invaluable people, spanning almost 1500 years:

Saint Patrick (about the 4th century/389AD) – the highly celebrated pioneer missionary to Ireland. Though Scottish by birth, his efforts to bring the gospel to the neighbouring Irish verily caused that nation to honour him as their very own "Irish patron saint">> "[Patrick] appealed solely to the Scriptures in support of what he believed, practised, and propagated. The words are not mine, but of God and the apostles and prophets, who have never lied.. God hath spoken."—Leslie Hardinge, The Celtic Church in Britain, pg.29-30

Blaise Pascal (1623-1662) – French mathematician, physicist, inventor of many things including the first calculator, and a early form of a bus line>> "The foundation [of the Holy Bible] is admirable; it is the most ancient book in the world, and the most authentic."—Blaise Pascal: Thoughts, Letters, Minor Works, pg.200

Isaac Newton (1643-1727) – English mathematician, astronomer, physicist, natural philosopher, widely recognised as one of the most influential scientists of all time>> "[God] gave [end-time Bible prophecies] and the prophecies of the Old Testament, not to gratify men's curiosities by enabling them to foreknow things, but that after they were fulfilled they might be interpreted by the event, and His own Providence, not the Interpreters, be then manifested thereby to the world."—Sir Isaac Newton's Daniel and the Apocalypse, pg.306

Abraham Lincoln (1809-1865) – 16th U.S. President whose life and leadership have been memorialized in the U.S. and admired the world over>> "In regards to this great Book [the Bible], I have but to say it is the best gift God has given to men. All the good the Saviour gave to this world was communicated through this Book. But for it we could not know right from wrong."—Abraham Lincoln: Quotes, Quips and Speeches, pg.47

May God bless you...

centuries made it second only to the Bible among English readership.>> "The word of God is alone to be taken as our guide in worship, and in matters of religion."—The Acts and Monuments of John Foxe (1841), Vol.1, Pt.1, Sect.4, pg.191

"But they that are true Christians, and have regard to their souls, must learn by their preachers, and understand by the scriptures, that besides this life, besides this world, this Kingdom, these things here present, there are other things and much greater things another life, another Kingdom, another world to be looked for."—Writings of John Fox, Bale and Coverdale, pg.34

Ellen G. White (1827-1915) – American female author, speaker, missionary, a founding pioneer of the Seventh Day Adventist Church. Despite early misfortunes depriving her of formal education beyond the 3rd grade, she laboured tirelessly in the mission of Christ her entire life, increasing in ability and influence. Acknowledged today by researchers as the most translated American author, and most translated female author in history>> "There is nothing more calculated to strengthen the intellect than the study of the Scriptures. No other book is so potent to elevate the thoughts, to give vigor to the faculties as the broad, ennobling truths of the Bible. If God's word were studied as it should be, men would have a breadth of mind, a nobility of character, and a stability of purpose rarely seen in these times."—Steps to Christ, pg.90

"May the same Holy Spirit which inspired the Bible take possession of your hearts, leading you to love his word, which is Spirit and life.. We must needs be stimulated by calling to mind the life of the martyrs and holy men of God, who appreciated the truth above gold, silver, and earthly possessions, and even above life itself.. They read the word of God, they meditated upon it, and believed it."—REVIEW and Herald, January 8, 1889 par.11

Yes friend, this world has been blessed by many noble men and women. And not a few attribute the best of themselves, indeed the best of humanity, to have its root in following the Bible. Even in the midst of the worst of persecutions, so precious was the Word of God to them that they regarded it as transcending the momentary sufferings of death. What a powerful Book! Don't you think you should read it? Study it more? Could not the inspiration, the salvation they gained, be yours too?

The Bible – the Word of God – is the salvation message from our Creator. It outlines our origins, our purpose, and why we find a Saviour in Jesus Christ alone. Our prayer is that you would gain such an understanding, such an experience, as you give God's Word the chance to renew your life – like being born again, with a brighter hope!

1 Peter 1:23>> ²³Being born again, not of corruptible seed, but of incorruptible, by the word of God, which liveth and abideth for ever.

May God bless you...

CAN YOU TRUST THE BIBLE? (PART 3)

What are the FACTS and what are the MYTHS about this age-surviving Book?

❖ WHO ARE THE ONES WHO ACTUALLY LOVE AND FOLLOW THE BIBLE? AREN'T THESE GENERALLY FOOLS, EXTREMISTS & THE UNLEARNED?

Friend, ever heard of Isaac Newton, Abraham Lincoln, Booker T. Washington? Immense contributors these have been to human progress. But they among other worthies share a certain quality which you may not have known – they loved and followed the Bible. Here are some short profiles of honourable, intelligent, renowned individuals, who were, in the very same breath, Bible-believers. Testimonial evidence is supplied for the lives of these invaluable people, spanning almost 1500 years:

Saint Patrick (about the 4th century/389AD) – the highly celebrated pioneer missionary to Ireland. Though Scottish by birth, his efforts to bring the gospel to the neighbouring Irish verily caused that nation to honour him as their very own "Irish patron saint">> "[Patrick] appealed solely to the Scriptures in support of what he believed, practised, and propagated. The words are not mine, but of God and the apostles and prophets, who have never lied.. God hath spoken."—Leslie Hardinge, The Celtic Church in Britain, pg.29-30

Blaise Pascal (1623-1662) – French mathematician, physicist, inventor of many things including the first calculator, and a early form of a bus line>> "The foundation [of the Holy Bible] is admirable; it is the most ancient book in the world, and the most authentic."—Blaise Pascal: Thoughts, Letters, Minor Works, pg.200

Isaac Newton (1643-1727) – English mathematician, astronomer, physicist, natural philosopher, widely recognised as one of the most influential scientists of all time>> "[God] gave [end-time Bible prophecies] and the prophecies of the Old Testament, not to gratify men's curiosities by enabling them to foreknow things, but that after they were fulfilled they might be interpreted by the event, and His own Providence, not the Interpreters, be then manifested thereby to the world."—Sir Isaac Newton's Daniel and the Apocalypse, pg.306

Abraham Lincoln (1809-1865) – 16th U.S. President whose life and leadership have been memorialized in the U.S. and admired the world over>> "In regards to this great Book [the Bible], I have but to say it is the best gift God has given to men. All the good the Saviour gave to this world was communicated through this Book. But for it we could not know right from wrong."—Abraham Lincoln: Quotes, Quips and Speeches, pg.47

May God bless you...

Frederick Douglass (1818-1895) - admired African-American social reformer, abolitionist, orator and statesman. His journey from slavery to statesman was a major influence on the drive to abolish slavery in America>> "My desire to learn increased, and especially did I want a thorough acquaintance with the contents of the Bible I have gathered scattered pages of the Bible from the filthy street-gutters, and washed them and dried them, that in moments of leisure I might get a word or two of wisdom from them"-The Life and Times of Frederick Douglass, pg.63

Booker T. Washington (1856-1915) - leading African-American personality at the turn of the 20th century, educator, author, orator, and advisor to U.S. Presidents>> "Many people regard the Bible as a wonderful piece of literature only... But praiseworthy as this kind of study is, I do not believe it is sufficient. The Bible should be read as a daily guide to right living and as a daily incentive to positive Christian service"-Putting the Most Into Life, pg.26 "No man can read the Bible and be lazy. The Negro doesn't run from the Bible, either... You never read in history of any great man whose influence has been lasting, who has not been a reader of the Bible"-The Booker T. Washington Papers, Vol.5, pg.543-544

And there are other historic Bible-believers who followed the Word of God even in times when one would be punished for doing so. Even at the risk of torture and losing one's own life...

John Wycliffe (1320-1384) - English scholastic philosopher and theologian, Oxford professor, Biblical translator, former Catholic prelate turned early Reformer, popularly acknowledged as the 'morning star' of the Protestant Reformation. Responsible for the first major and complete translation of the Old and New Testament into the common English language>> "...for though our covetous clerics are altogether carried away by bribery, heresy, and many other sins, and though they despise and oppose the scripture, as much as they can, yet the common people cry out for the scripture, to know it, and obey it, with great cost and peril to their lives. For these reasons and others, and with the loving purpose of saving all men in our realm which God would have to be saved, a simple creature has translated the Bible out of Latin into English... May God grant to us all the grace to know well and fully obey the holy scriptures, and suffer joyfully some pain for it the end! Amen"-Prologue, Ch.15, of The Holy Bible by John Wycliffe and His Followers (1384)

John Huss (1373-1415) - Bohemian (today's Austrian/Czech region) scholar, university rector & dean, theologian, former Catholic turned Reformer and Martyr at the hands of the Papacy>> "I did not come here to see the cardinals, nor to converse with them. I came to the whole council. There will I speak, as God will direct me, and answer on what I am questioned... and if they interrogate me, I hope rather to choose death than deny any truth that is known to me from Scripture or otherwise"-The Life & Times of Master John Hus, pg.216-217 "Lord Jesus Christ, I will bear patiently and humbly this horrible, shameful, and cruel death for the sake of Thy gospel and the preaching of Thy word"-ibid., pg.284

William Tyndale (1494-1536) - English theologian, Oxford scholar and a leading Protestant Reformer prior to his execution. Responsible for a translation of the New Testament into English, which emerged as the first major Scripture to be circulated within the 16th century Reformation, and the first one to be printed>> "Which thing only moved me to translate the New Testament. Because I had perceived by experience, how that it was impossible to establish the lay people in any truth except the Scripture were plainly laid before their eyes in their mother tongue, that they might see the process, order, and meaning of the text for else, whatsoever truth is taught them, these enemies of all truth quench it again."-The Works of the English Reformers: William Tyndale...(1831), Vol.2, pg.3 "They [the papists] would divide you from Christ and his holy Testament, and join you to the Pope, to believe in his testament and promises. Some man will ask, peradventure, "Why I take the labour to make this work, inasmuch as they will burn it, seeing they burnt the gospel?" I answer: In burning the New Testament they [the papists] did none other thing than that I looked for, no more shall they do if they burn me also, if it be God's will it shall so be... Nevertheless, in translating the New Testament I did my duty, and so do I now, and will do as much more as God hath ordained me to do"-ibid., Vol.2, pg.82

Martin Luther (1483-1546) - German professor of theology, composer, former Catholic priest/monk turned Reformer, and the pre-eminent figure who gave the major impetus to the Protestant Reformation through the posting of the 95 Theses and further exploits. Translated also the Bible into German>> "...my conscience is a prisoner to God's word, and no one can be compelled to act against his conscience. Here I stand, I cannot act otherwise. God be my aid. Amen!"-M. Michelet, The Life of Luther, pg.17 "I consent with all my heart that the emperor, the princes, and even the meanest Christian, should examine and judge my works but on one condition, that they take the Word of God for their standard. Men have nothing to do but to obey it. Do not offer violence to my conscience, which is bound and chained up with the Holy Scriptures"-Merle D'Aubigné, History of the Reformation of the Sixteenth Century (1846), Vol.2, pg.250 "In that case I would rather lose my life- rather have my arms and legs cut off, than forsake the clear and true Word of God"-ibid., Vol.2, pg.252

John Foxe (1516-1587) - English historian and scholar, former Oxford lecturer having resigned due to accepting the Protestant faith, ordained deacon. Responsible for the classic work 'Acts and Monuments' popularly known as 'Foxe's Book of Martyrs', whose circulation for over three

Frederick Douglass (1818-1895) - admired African-American social reformer, abolitionist, orator and statesman. His journey from slavery to statesman was a major influence on the drive to abolish slavery in America>> "My desire to learn increased, and especially did I want a thorough acquaintance with the contents of the Bible I have gathered scattered pages of the Bible from the filthy street-gutters, and washed them and dried them, that in moments of leisure I might get a word or two of wisdom from them"-The Life and Times of Frederick Douglass, pg.63

Booker T. Washington (1856-1915) - leading African-American personality at the turn of the 20th century, educator, author, orator, and advisor to U.S. Presidents>> "Many people regard the Bible as a wonderful piece of literature only... But praiseworthy as this kind of study is, I do not believe it is sufficient. The Bible should be read as a daily guide to right living and as a daily incentive to positive Christian service"-Putting the Most Into Life, pg.26 "No man can read the Bible and be lazy. The Negro doesn't run from the Bible, either... You never read in history of any great man whose influence has been lasting, who has not been a reader of the Bible"-The Booker T. Washington Papers, Vol.5, pg.543-544

And there are other historic Bible-believers who followed the Word of God even in times when one would be punished for doing so. Even at the risk of torture and losing one's own life...

John Wycliffe (1320-1384) - English scholastic philosopher and theologian, Oxford professor, Biblical translator, former Catholic prelate turned early Reformer, popularly acknowledged as the 'morning star' of the Protestant Reformation. Responsible for the first major and complete translation of the Old and New Testament into the common English language>> "...for though our covetous clerics are altogether carried away by bribery, heresy, and many other sins, and though they despise and oppose the scripture, as much as they can, yet the common people cry out for the scripture, to know it, and obey it, with great cost and peril to their lives. For these reasons and others, and with the loving purpose of saving all men in our realm which God would have to be saved, a simple creature has translated the Bible out of Latin into English... May God grant to us all the grace to know well and fully obey the holy scriptures, and suffer joyfully some pain for it the end! Amen"-Prologue, Ch.15, of The Holy Bible by John Wycliffe and His Followers (1384)

John Huss (1373-1415) - Bohemian (today's Austrian/Czech region) scholar, university rector & dean, theologian, former Catholic turned Reformer and Martyr at the hands of the Papacy>> "I did not come here to see the cardinals, nor to converse with them. I came to the whole council. There will I speak, as God will direct me, and answer on what I am questioned... and if they interrogate me, I hope rather to choose death than deny any truth that is known to me from Scripture or otherwise"-The Life & Times of Master John Hus, pg.216-217 "Lord Jesus Christ, I will bear patiently and humbly this horrible, shameful, and cruel death for the sake of Thy gospel and the preaching of Thy word"-ibid., pg.284

William Tyndale (1494-1536) - English theologian, Oxford scholar and a leading Protestant Reformer prior to his execution. Responsible for a translation of the New Testament into English, which emerged as the first major Scripture to be circulated within the 16th century Reformation, and the first one to be printed>> "Which thing only moved me to translate the New Testament. Because I had perceived by experience, how that it was impossible to establish the lay people in any truth except the Scripture were plainly laid before their eyes in their mother tongue, that they might see the process, order, and meaning of the text for else, whatsoever truth is taught them, these enemies of all truth quench it again."-The Works of the English Reformers: William Tyndale...(1831), Vol.2, pg.3 "They [the papists] would divide you from Christ and his holy Testament, and join you to the Pope, to believe in his testament and promises. Some man will ask, peradventure, "Why I take the labour to make this work, inasmuch as they will burn it, seeing they burnt the gospel?" I answer: In burning the New Testament they [the papists] did none other thing than that I looked for, no more shall they do if they burn me also, if it be God's will it shall so be... Nevertheless, in translating the New Testament I did my duty, and so do I now, and will do as much more as God hath ordained me to do"-ibid., Vol.2, pg.82

Martin Luther (1483-1546) - German professor of theology, composer, former Catholic priest/monk turned Reformer, and the pre-eminent figure who gave the major impetus to the Protestant Reformation through the posting of the 95 Theses and further exploits. Translated also the New Testament into German>> "...my conscience is a prisoner to God's word, and no one can be compelled to act against his conscience. Here I stand, I cannot act otherwise. God be my aid. Amen!"-M. Michelet, The Life of Luther, pg.17 "I consent with all my heart that the emperor, the princes, and even the meanest Christian, should examine and judge my works but on one condition, that they take the Word of God for their standard. Men have nothing to do but to obey it. Do not offer violence to my conscience, which is bound and chained up with the Holy Scriptures"-Merle D'Aubigné, History of the Reformation of the Sixteenth Century (1846), Vol.2, pg.250 "In that case I would rather lose my life- rather have my arms and legs cut off, than forsake the clear and true Word of God"-ibid., Vol.2, pg.252

John Foxe (1516-1587) - English historian and scholar, former Oxford lecturer having resigned due to accepting the Protestant faith, ordained deacon. Responsible for the classic work 'Acts and Monuments' popularly known as 'Foxe's Book of Martyrs', whose circulation for over three